RECORD FOR HILL CLIMBING

Essex Car Given Three Successful Tests at Lloyds

From a dead stop to a speed of between 20 and 25 miles an hour at the top of one of the worst hills in this section of the country is the record made by a little stock Essex car, in the presence of a number of Alexandrians last Saturday morning.

The test was made under the auspices of Duncan's garage and J. M. Duncan was in charge of the party. The climb was made up Lloyd's hill, on a dirt road and at a place where considerable speed was lost when the car crossed Russell road.

The Essex was driven by a driver from the Lambert-Hudson Motor company, of Washington, D. C. and the first trip was taken by Charles R. Morrison, advertising manager of the Alexandria Gazette.

The car started from a standstill at the foot of the hill, picked up to 27 miles below Russell road, lost about 10 points of speed when the depression of the road was struck and picked up to 20 miles an hour, climbing over the top of the steep hill at this speed.

Two other tests were made, the second carrying as passenger Harry Lyles, a member of the Gazette staff and the third trip being Dr. E. A. Gorman, of this city. Among the interested spectators of the tests were C. M. Horgan, manager of the Bendheim store; J. E. W. Timberman, of the Timberman drug store, F. C. Pullin, and a number of others. Several pictures of the little car, while it was making the test were taken by M. Loeb, of the Alexandria Studio.

Tyler Again in Trouble

Proprietor of Bootblack Stand Arrested on Charge of Violating Mapp Law

Early this afternoon Officer Magner saw a white man named Pettey and Charles Tyler, colored, enter the toilet room at the electric railway station at Prince and Royal streets. Pettey was heard to say "I'll wait here until you come back." Tyler remained away but a short time and upon reappearing entered the toilet room. Officer Magner entered as soon as possible and Pettey was heard to say, "Five dollars is a stiff price for half a pint of whisky." He was drinking from a half pint bottle when the officer took him in charge. Tyler was also arrested, and upon being searched a bottle containing a quart of whisky was found in one of his pockets. A special session of the Police Court convened and both men were held for the action of the grand jury. Drinking in a public place is an infraction of the Mapp law, and having a bottle of liquor in one's possession is a serious offense under the Volstead law.

Tyler subsequently gave bond in the sum of $500 for his appearance before the grand jury in the Corporation Court.

KILLS BROTHER FOLLOWING QUARREL

Charles Sorrell Shot Sunday Morning By Samuel Sorrell

TROUBLE OVER CARDS

Dead Man Threatened Brother Previous to Shooting Testimony Given Before Coroner's Jury

Following a quarrel over a pot rake off of ten cents in a poker game, in which there were several participants, which was being played aboard an ark on the river front in the northeastern section of the city, Charles Sorrell, thirty years old, unmarried, a fisherman, shortly after 4 o'clock Sunday morning was shot and fatally wounded by his brother, Samuel L. Sorrell, thirty-five years old, unmarried, also a fisherman. The shooting was done at comparatively close range and the contests of a single barrel shotgun entered Sorrell's abdomen and he died at 4.15 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Alexandria Hospital.

Immediately following the shooting Samuel Sorrell went to police station and surrendered himself to Policeman Gill, telling of the shooting.

Sorrell was taken to the Alexandria Hospital in a vehicle a short time after being shot and Drs. Moore and Jones summoned.

Coroner T. M. Jones summoned a jury which met Sunday night at Wheatley's mortuary chapel and after hearing the testimony of three witnesses gave a verdict to the effect that Sorrell came to his death from the effects of a gunshot wound inflicted by Samuel Sorrell which occurred between 4 and 5 o'clock the morning of July 4 on an ark in the extreme northeastern part of the city on the river shore and that he died at the Alexandria Hospital at 4.15 p. m. July 4.

The jury was composed of the following: Thomas Chauncey, foreman; A. Sunderlin, A. D. Deeton, M. E. Greene, Carter H. Smith and Joseph Ewald. Attorney Frank Stuart appeared for Sorrell and asked for a postponement in order that Charles Henry Smith, who will be associated with him in the case might be present and also in order that he might obtain a stenographic report of the testimony. However, it was decided to proceed with the hearing, it being explained that it was simply the duty of the jury to determine, "How, when and where" the man came to his death.

Sorrell was present at the hearing and he apparently was unmoved by the testimony given. It is understood that his plea will be self defense.

Sorrell in a statement made to a representative of The Gazette Sunday afternoon, a short time after his brother's death, stated that a poker game was in progress aboard

THREE INDICTMENTS AGAINST TURNER

T. Morgan Moore's Slayer To Be Tried In Richmond July 16.

MURDERED ON MAY 23

Jury Also Returns True Bills Against Negro For Attacking Miss Pearl J. Clark and For Robbing Her.

Three indictments were returned by a grand jury in the United States Court for the Eastern district of Virginia this afternoon in the case of William H. Turner, colored, charged with shooting and killing T. Morgan Moore, of this city which occurred the morning of Sunday May 23, at the south end of the highway bridge. Judge Edmund Waddill presiding, C. Page Waller Jr., was foreman of the grand jury.

The first indictment charges Turner with the shooting and killing of Moore. The second indictment charges him with attacking Miss Pearl J. Clark, of Washington fiancee of Moore, who was Moore's companion at the time of the murder.

The third indictment charges Turner with the robbery of Miss Clark on a government reservation, it being enumerated that he stole from her one wrist watch, one double solitaire diamond ring and another ring not being described in the indictment.

The trial of Turner was set for July 16 in Richmond, Va., where Owing to the strong feeling Turner is now a prisoner against Turner in Alexandria the federal authorities deemed it expedient to try Turner in that city.

The indictments were returned against Turner early this afternoon after the jury heard the testimony of Miss Clark and others who were summoned. This was the first case taken up by the jury after the court met at 11 o'clock this morning.

The jury was charged by Judge Waddill on its duty in handling the various cases presented, and especially directed the jury's attention to the fact that all offenses committed on government reservations or places controlled by the government can be handled by the United States Court. He also directed attention to car robberies and other crimes in which the federal courts have jurisdiction.

The government today was represented by Attorney Fred G. Duvall, R. T. Wilson, H. R. Miller, Jr., assistant district attorneys.

After the jury completed their investigation of the Turner case they at once reported to the court.

Afterward the jury retired and took up other indictments presented and they will make their report on these cases late this afternoon.

Among the cases presented are many for violations of the Volstead act.

The Grand Jury follows:

C. Page Waller, Charles B. Swan, R. Theodore Cook, A. D. Brockett, J. S. Skidmore, Duff Green, A. J. Boll-

Recover Merchandise

Police Capture Assortment of Articles Valued at $200

Merchandise valued at $200 was recovered by the police yesterday from a colored man giving the name of William Johnson, who says he is 37 years old and that his home is in Baltimore.

The goods were in a gunney sack which Johnson was carrying across his back. The arrest was made by Sergt. Wilkinson, Policemen Magner and Talbot near the Union station shortly after 1 o'clock Sunday morning.

Included in the articles recovered were several bolts of calico, shoes tooth brushes, cologne, ties, scarfs scissors, pins and a host of other article including more than 400 pennies.

The accused was arraigned before Justice Thompson yesterday morning and he declined to make a statement and was committed to jail for ten days in order that the police may investigate the case.

Washington detectives looked over the goods yesterday with a hope of identifying some of the articles.

Johnson subsequently told the police that he purchased the merchandise in Washington Saturday night from two white soldiers and paid them $2 for it. The police discredit this story.

RECENT DEATHS

Mrs. Laura M. McDonough, 36 years old, wife of Joseph L. McDonough, died shortly after nine o'clock Sunday morning at the Alexandria Hospital following an operation. She lived just south of New Alexandria and besides her husband is survived by six small children. Her funeral took place at 9:30 o'clock this morning from St. Mary's Catholic Church. Services were conducted by Rev. L. F. Kelly and burial was in St .Mary's cemetery.

Miss Anna S. Bitzer, 62 years old, sister of Dr. J. H. Bitzer, this city, died Sunday morning at Takoma Park, D. C., and the body was shipped yesterday morning to Winchester, Va., for burial.

Mrs. Catharine Fagan, 90 years old, widow of Joshua Fagan, died Saturday afternoon at the residence of her daugghter, Mrs. James S. Maddux, Aurora Hills, Arlington county, and the body was shipped yesterday to Carlisle, Pa., for burial.

Mrs. Annie M. Marshall, wife of R. E. Marshall, of Burke, Fairfax county, died last night. Her husband and two children are living. Her funeral will take place at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and burial will be at Fairfax Courthouse.

GOVERNOR COX IS NOMINATED

Ohio's Executive is Chosen on Forty-Fourth Ballot

IN SESSION 14 HOURS

Gruelling Fight Between Winner and William Gibbs McAdoo Lasts Until Two O'clock This Morning.

JAMES M. COX

San Francisco, Calif., July 6.—Governor James M .Cox, of Ohio, was nominated on the forty-fourth ballot as the Democratic standard bearer shortly before 2 o'clock this morning.

The delegates had been in session fourteen hours.

The nomination came after a gruelling fight between the winner and William Gibbs M'Adoo. Up until midnight the latter was in the lead.

The tide began to turn with the withdrawal from the race of Attorney General Palmer. The Palmer delegates at first were split, some going to th Ohio governor and the rest to McAdoo. Gradually, however, the stream of votes eddied to the Ohioan.

For a long time the convention seemed hopelessly deadlocked. Both the leaders controlled enough votes to keep the other from being nominated.

Finally, at 1:40 o'clock this morn-

OUR STANDARD-BEARER

After an elongated session, suggestive of the democratic convention in Charleston, S. C., in 1860, Governor James M. Cox, of Ohio, was, at an early hour this morning proclaimed the democratic nominee for President of the United States by the convention which met last week in San Francisco. Thus ends one of the most thrilling family contests in the history of the democratic party.

The nominee bears the proper credentials. Governor Cox was born 50 years ago on a farm in Jacksonburg, Butler county, Ohio. He attended country schools in his early days and subsequently graduated from the high school. At his entry into manhood he taught school, but soon relinquished that occupation and entered a printing office, at first working in the composing room. He soon became a reporter, later an editor and is now engaged as a publisher of newspapers.

Like Benjamin Franklin, Horace Greeley, Abraham Lincoln and other American products, while in his teens he learned to work early in the morning and late at night, and it is recorded of him that as soon as he was able to lend a hand he passed more time at work than play. Realizing the fact that "there's plenty of room on top," he passed from one rung of the ladder to the other, until he is now on the pinnacle.

There were divers candidates for the nomination at the San Francisco convention. Each had substantial claims for the position of standard-bearer. But one, however, could be chosen, and it is generally admitted that the convention has fixed upon the proper man as the democratic candidate for President.

Let us hope that the spirit of the enthusiasm in evidence at San Francisco during the wee sma' hours this morning will animate every member of the party from now until next November when, there is every reason to believe, a democrat will be chosen to succeed Woodrow Wilson, who during two terms—among the most trying that chief executives have been called upon to experience that he has faithfully performed the trust confided to him goes without saying.

While all members of the democratic organization are hailing the rising sun, the members of the party will bow to that whose course will have been run next March.

INDEPENDENCE DAY

The weather yesterday was ideal for a holiday, and the Fourth of July was observed generally. Then sands of automobiles were utilized in transporting picknickers to parks and rural retreats, while many persons used motorboats for trips down the river. The excursion steamer were crowded, as were also electric trains between this city and Mount Vernon.

While distressing accidents are reported in other cities, the result of careless handling of explosives and fire works, nothing of a serious nature in that line marred the Fourth of July in Alexandria, although there were some narrow escapes. A little girl living on north St. Asaph street had a close call last night while amusing herself with a "sparkler." The contrivance set fire to her dress, but, fortunately, a bystander extinguished the flames before any serious result followed.

In Philadelphia two boys lost their lives while handling "sparklers," which most persons suppose are harmless. Several children were seriously burnt by these contrivances in Washington last night. And accidents from the same source are reported in other places.

Several days ago a well meaning correspondent of the Gazette sent a communication in which the use of "sparklers" was defended. It may not be generally known, but it is a fact nevertheless, that these adjuncts to the celebration of the Fourth off July are dangerous. The sparklers, it is true, cause but little alarm, as they expire almost as soon as they are lighted, but the stalk or steam contains the menace to the lives of little ones. Burns from the stalk cause injuries difficult to heal and likely to cause tetanus, or blood poisoning.

This information was imparted to a prominent official of this city by a man who at one time was employed in a factory where "sparklers" are manufactured. According to him, they are among the most dangerous of all Fourth of July explosives.

The authorities of Philadelphia cut them out altogether this year. Dealers sought an injunction against the police department, but the judge before whom the proceedings were brought decided that the police acted within their powers when they forbade their use.

While there is no special ordinance forbidding their use in Alexandria, a law of the city makes it a misdemeanor for any person to engage in diversions dangerous to themselves or others.

"DRIVES" LOSING THEIR FORCE

With the decision of the Interchurch Federation to abandon its billion-dollar "drive" and the failure even of the highly popular Salvation Army to raise by the same means a more modest sum, the expediency of this sensational opening of the public purse will be more seriously questioned than ever. An intensive method of getting contributions had a certain justification in the days of the Liberty loans and the various wartime charities; the need was urgent, and promptness in meeting it was the main consideration. But the disadvantages of drives are now becoming more clear than the advantages.

For one thing, they have reached a point where they arouse resentment rather than enthusiasm. The question is not one of ability or of willingness to give. But most persons have become irritated with the stand and deliver attitude of the less tactful drivers. They do not like to be held up at inconvenient moments and made to feel, if they are unable to respond to the demand, that they are evading a public duty. In these days of costly living the most generously inclined cannot always afford to give on impulse to every cause that appeals to them. They have to calculate on charities as closely as upon grocers' bills.

Again, the drive system has proved in many instances injurious to its would-be beneficiaries. It has often led to a great waste of energy; it has sometimes given opportunities for dishonesty which have not been resisted. The personal note in it has now and then been inspiring where cold appeals in print would have had little effect. Even so, the power of the drive to enlist sympathy has been dulled by repetition. If there are advantages in it, as there doubtless are, these can be retained under the restrictions which common sense imposes. —(Philadelphia Inquirer) an ark and he was cutting the game. There was $3 in the pot and he took ten cents and this seemed to anger his brother. His brother then threatened and abused him he said. He ran away after being thrown out of the ark and later returned after making an ineffectual effort to get into another ark and when he thought he was going to shoot him he fired at his brother.

Nettie Byrd, colored, the first witness before the jury stated she lives in an ark near where the shooting took place. Witness was aroused by the noise outside and Samuel Sorrell told her Charles was going to kill him. Witness went to the door and saw Charles Sorrell pick up a rock and hurl it at Samuel Sorrell and it struck Dan Alexander. Charles she testified remarked to his brother "If you don't kill me this morning I will kill you this evening." Witness also testified that Samuel Sorrell requested her to lock him up a she was afraid that his brother was going to kill him.

Charles Sorrell she said was coming out of the ark with both hands behind him. Sam she said ran into her ark with a gun and both men met. However half an hour intervened before the shooting she said.

The testimony of James Mason, colored, was to the effect that the brothers were fighting, having always been of a quarrelsome nature. He parted them. Sam had a gun and he told Sam not to shoot, that Charles did not have any. Charles called Sam a "dirty cur" and this juncture Samuel Sorrell fired, being about fifteen feet from his brother at the time. The shooting happened in front of his ark he said. Following the shooting Samuel Sorrell walked away and Charles after beink shot walked a distance of a square and gave out and he placed him in a wagon and carried him to the hospital.

James Dean testified that the brothers got to quarreling and Charles struck Samuel. The brothers were separated and then Charles Sorrell went off and procured the gun and subsequently dropped it and it was picked up by Samuel Sorrell and ten minutes afterward Samuel Sorrell with this gun killed his brother. Dean said he examined the gun after it had been dropped by Charles Sorrell and that it was not loaded.

Chas. Sorrell was a veteran of the world war having served overseas and on several occasions was in battle.

Charles Sorrell more than two years ago during a quarrell shot his brother Samuel Sorrell in the back, Samuel however, soon recovered from his injuries.

The funeral of Sorrell took place at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the residence of his brother-in-law, Howard Harrison, 708 Patrick Street. Services were conducted by Rev. Dr. W. J. Morton, rector of Christ Episcopal Church and burial was in Bethel cemetery. Pallbearers were members from the company with which Sorrell served overseas in the world war.

Twin-Six Cartoonist

Twelve Cylinder Packard Draws Crowd

Alton Packard, Master Cartoonist and Humorist Extraordinary, is not a car but a cartoonist. In fact, he may be said to be a car-tune-ist, for the musical part of his program is as tuneful as the cartooning is clever. The Louisville Courier-Journal says of his work, "'Vanity Fair,' by Alton Packard, was undoubtedly the very best entertainment feature of the splendid Chautauqua program."

This platform favorite will appear here on the opening night of the coming Chautauqua. His program will be superlatively fine in all its features. He calls it a "Comedy Musical and Cartoon Review," and it is both comical and musical.

Packard says, "I first practised cartooning on the school teacher, who in turn practised teaching and jiu-jitsu on us boys. We kept that teacher as busy as a one-armed fiddler. I drew cartoons of the teacher and the teacher drew blisters on me. Almost daily I was invited to the wood-shed where I was warmly applauded. My cartoons and jokes always got a hand and teacher was a hard-handed applauder."

This boy grown to manhood has developed his natural tendencies to the point where he is perhaps the best-known platform cartoonist in the country.

His "Review" will be preluded by the Del Mar Ladies' Quartet in an instrumental and vocal program of unusual merit and popularity.

COUNCIL MEATS
Better Meats That Cost Less
No Waste · No Ice Needed
Always Tender
Ready-Cooked To Perfection

15% to 25% More Actual Meat to the Pound

YOU buy uncooked meat and you pay for trimmings and for bones. You can't eat them—they're not meat. But you pay for them—at meat prices.

In ready-cooked Council Meats there are no bones, no waste, just meat—fine, tender cuts, cooked as you like them, seasoned as you season them. Ready to eat except for a few minutes' warming.

And they can be had in almost endless variety; roast beef, roast mutton, hamburger steak and onions, corned beef hash, etc., etc.—each as good as it can be and at prices that give you 15 to 25% more actual meat to the pound (counting the shrinkage in cooking) at the same price per pound you're now paying.

Therefore, to use Council Meats is to actually save from 15 to 25c out of each dollar you now spend for meat. You can't afford to overlook such opportunity for economy.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Four year old Rosa Flegenheimer, daughter of United States Commissioner Flegenheimer, of Richmond, who, with her mother, is passing the summer at the home of the latter's mother, Mrs. S. H. Hable, had a perilous backward ride yesterday afternoon in a high powered motor car belonging to her uncle, Herman Hable, and but for Miss Margaret M. Hawkins, a neighbor, leaping upon the running board and finally getting the car under control, the child probably would have been seriously if not fatally hurt. She had climbed into the car and, imitating her uncle, released the brakes, while the car was standing on the brow of a hill. The car began to descend the hill backwards, gaining momentum rapidly. Miss Hawkins leaped upon the running board and stopped the car, as it was about to crash into the wall of a brick building at the bottom of the hill.

Mrs. Louise McQuade of Washington, and her 17 year old daughter, Ann Louise, of the same address, were killed when an automobile overturned near Front Royal, Va., late Sunday night.

Mrs. William Roberts, of Shepps End, while on a visit in Baltimore last week, was struck and run over by a motor truck, receiving injuries which resulted in her death.

In an explosion of dynamite near Sperryville, Rappahannock county, fourteen miles east of Luray, Oscar Smith was blown to atoms and several other men were fatally hurt when engaged Friday on a piece of road which was being built by convicts from different parts of Virginia.

The State convention of the Maccabees meeting in Lynchburg, selected Norfolk for the place for the 1921 convention and adjourned. Officers elected for the year are: Commander, E. E. Teasley, Norfolk; State record keeper, Arthur Pound, Norfolk; physician, Dr. H. Urback, Richmond;; chaplain, F. C. Helbig, Lynchburg; sergeant, A. L. Lucas, Richmond; first guard, L. L. Joiner, Zuni; second guard, J. W. Mort, Bristol; sentinel, G. J. Stewart, Smithfield; picket, P. L. Hurlbutt, Newport News, and lecturer, A. L. Lucas, Richmond.

Raymond Fitch, a 19 year old youth living in Lynchburg, has been arrested on the charge of using the mails for fraudulent purposes. Fitch, t is alleged, wrote to persons who had missing relatives, telling them that the missing relative was a victim of an automobile accident and in a hospital in Lynchburg in need of funds. The letter traced to Fitch goes into great length into the troubles of the missing man and his need for money.

By playing the role of sleuth, Judge Robert G. Southall, of Amelia county, succeeded in uncovering evidence sufficient to secure the conviction of John Robinson, a young man charged with robbing his wine cellar of some of his choicest brandy. Judge Wells, of South Richmond, sat Friday at the trial of the case, the result being that Robinson was given a term of one month in jail, coupled with a $50 fine. At the instance of Judge Southall, the prison sentence was suspended contingent upon Robinson's good behavior for 12 months. Judge Southall formerly represented the Fourth Virginia district in Congress.

That a minister can aid in enforcing prohibition besides by preaching is shown by a report received at the office of S. R. Brame, supervising Federal prohibition agent for the Southern division, setting forth that Rev. N. H. Shepherd, of North Carolina, captured a still in the woods and turned it over to Federal agents. Mr. Shepherd, pastor of a church in Halifax county, and recently of the Arlington Street Church, Rocky Mount, was out driving when he saw the still. After successfully raiding the place he tied the apparatus to the back of his carriage and drove to prohibition headquarters.

Safeguarding the Investor

Number One of a Series

There is an annual loss in the United States of hundreds of millions of dollars which are put into so-called investments pictured in glowing terms and sold to the credulous by unscrupulous promoters.

Many millions of dollars are also lost through the exercise of bad judgment involving undue risks. The good faith of the management and promoters may be the best, but unfortunately that will not avoid the consequences of basic infirmities.

With the tremendous increase which has occurred in the number of investors caused by the wide influence of the Liberty Loan campaigns, it is unfortunate that so many of those who have just begun to learn the wisdom of saving and investing should risk losses through fraudulent promotions or unwise speculation.

Recognizing this, the governments of many states have sought by Blue Sky Laws to protect investors from get-rich-quick promoters. Similar Federal Laws are also in the making.

We strongly urge the investor to select as his adviser any of the long established and widely known investment banking houses whose record over a period of years is an assurance of ability, integrity and responsibility. If this is done, the first and most important step toward his protection would be achieved.

In a series of brief advertisements, Hambleton & Company will endeavor to recall to the experienced investor, a number of important services which are rendered by the conservative investment banking houses of America. We hope also to suggest a few precautions to the less experienced and assist them to determine the safest and most profitable employment of their funds.

We shall appreciate your consideration of these advertisements as they appear and invite any comment you may care to make.

SPORTS

The Dreadnaught A. C. won their 22nd straight game by taking two games during the holidays.

Sunday, July 4, they defeated the Potomac Council of the Knights of Columbus League from Catholic University by the score of 6 to 5 in one of the most exciting games of the season. Features of this game were the hitting of Capt. Hayden and Chief Frazier, with three apiece. Jimmy Quayle came to the rescue of Pitcher Compton in the 4th inning, proving again to be the master of the situation during the rest of the game.

Score by innings:

K. of C. 1 2 0 1 0 0 0 1 0
D. A. C. ..... 3 0 2 0 0 0 0 1 x

Monday, July 5 returned the Dreadnaughts winners again. Defeating the Athletics of Washington by the score of 11 to 8 after much argument over the umpires decision, in the 8th inning. Francis Summers, Alexandria's own wonderful athlete from the Virginia Military Institute played his first game with the home boys incidently endearing himself with the home fans with a three base hit and a home run. The home run came in the eighth inning, being one of the longest hits made here during the past 10 years. This ball landed across Princess street on the fly.

The crowd went wild with excitement when Ludlow followed with a home run just behind Summers. Other features being the relief pitching of Quayle after Forsman had been knocked out of the box in the 4th inning. Score by innings:

Athletics 0 0 0 7 0 0 1

ing, Judge James A. Amidon, of Kansas, manager for McAdoo, moved to suspend the rules. This was done, and Governor Cox was chosen by acclamation.

The convention adjourned at 1.52 o'clock until noon today, when a Vice President will be chosen.

At the close of the thirty-eighth ballot, Palmer's name was withdrawn from the contest by Charles C. Carlin, of Virginia, his manager.

The floor was a scene of turmoil, men and women milling around some shouting through megaphones with the fate of the Democratic nomination possibly being decided in the midst of the confusion.

Ringing over the dramatic spectacle were insistent strains of the band grinding out "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here."

On the thirty-eighth ballot, the last before Carlin's momentous announcement, Palmer controlled 211 votes.

Carlin said he was authorized by Palmer "absolutely, unconditionally and finally" to release his delegates.

ing, G. B. Farrish, John Fick, William Snellings, Jacob Kentze, Richard Waller, Thomas Harris, Robert L. Jones, R. C. Travis, W. A. Robertson, Rives B. Hardy, E. C. McSparran, William A. Mann, W. B. Ball, William F. Bryce and Robert B. Drew.

The petit jury was not in session today, the court's time being taken up with a number of matters which were argued before Judge Waddill.

It is announced that the cases of several men indicted charged with having in their possession articles alleged to have been taken from Camp Humphreys will be heard before the petit jury tomorrow. Attorny Edmund Burke has been retained to represent some of the accused parties.

Attending court today were a large number of attorneys, many from out of the city. It is expected that this session of court will last most of the week.

The petit jury follows:

A SENSIBLE INVESTMENT

The most sensible way to invest your money is to keep your property in good condition and to have a home which will make your family comfortable and other buildings which will properly house your belongings.

You get the direct benefit from money invested in this way from day to day, in addition to the actual increase in the value of your property.

There have been some reductions in the price of lumber by the mills and we are reducing our prices to meet these, regardless of the cost of the different items we have in stock.

Good Light Lightens Labor : :

Lighting the kitchen is like lighting a factory. Good lighting quickens production, as the factory man would say. In other words, it makes work go faster without the expenditure of any more energy.

Of all places needing more light and better light the kitchen in most homes is one of the most important. And when you have doubled or trebled the light in your work rooms, try it also in your living rooms.

If you find that doubling or trebling the illumination there mean glaring light, don't cut down the amount of lighting again—shade the light better! Keep the direct rays from striking the eye. Throw some of the light to the ceiling and walls.

In every socket—in every room from cellar to garret—use only

EDISON MAZDA LAMPS

If you will do that, you will find that a great deal more light in the room is decorative, pleasing and restful. It's not the amount of LIGHT that you find irritating in some rooms, but the amount of GLARE.

OUR METER MEN REPORT THAT A NUMBER OF OUR CUSTOMERS ARE USING CARBON LAMPS. WHY NOT BE UP TO DATE? USE MAZDA LAMPS—BETTER LIGHT—LOWER BILLS.
